

CLIPPER TO STAR ON TV

Brett Thurley and the team at Clipper recently hosted the crew from Channel 7's Creek To Coast show preparing a special for the Sanctuary Cove International Boat Show.

Star of the show, the new Clipper Cordova 48, went through her paces on the Gold Coast Broadwater under the watchful eye of the TV crew. They all worked tirelessly in sometimes difficult weather conditions.

"The Sun and clouds co-operated only in patches," explained Brett. "So the TV crew often stopped shooting interiors when the sky cleared and rushed onto the deck to complete running shots and footage on the flybridge. I just hope they got everything they needed.

"The Cordova 48 is a magnificent boat and we wanted to make sure the crew saw her in the very best light."

Creek To Coast host Scott Hillier interviewed Brett during the shoot, discussing the build quality and fit-out.

"The teak fitout is magnificent," commented Scott.

Producer Carole Horne was delighted with the shoot.

"It is great to work with people who understand what we need. The shoot went very smoothly and we all thoroughly enjoyed our day out on the water with Clipper," she said.

The show will be broadcast on Channel 7 in south-east Queensland at the special time of 1pm on Saturday, May 15.
